

Executive Proclamation
Office of the Governor

Whereas, Men have a shorter life expectancy than women, 74 years compared to 78 years in the year 2000, and men also have higher death rates for all causes of death; and,

Whereas, The leading causes of death for men are heart disease, cancer, and cerebrovascular disease; and,

Whereas, The causes of cancer death among men are lung and bronchus, colorectal and prostate cancer; and,

Whereas, Educating the public and health care providers about the importance of a healthy lifestyle and early detection of male health problems will result in reducing rates of mortality from disease; and,

Whereas, Men who are educated about the value of preventative health will be more likely to participate in health screenings; and,

Whereas, South Dakota men can promote health and prevent disease and illness by taking simple steps to improve their physical, mental, social and spiritual health; and,

Whereas, National Men's Health Week will serve to help educate men and their families about the importance of positive health habits and preventative health practices, and encourage early detection and treatment of disease among men and boys; and,

Whereas, Men's health remains a priority for South Dakota's families, communities, and government; and,

Whereas, The citizens of this state are encouraged to increase awareness of the importance of a healthy lifestyle, regular exercise, and medical check-ups; and,

Now, Therefore, I, M. Michael Rounds, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim June 14-20, 2004, as in South Dakota.

MEN'S HEALTH WEEK

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Twenty-second Day of April in the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Four.

M. Michael Rounds, Governor
